- THE TRUTH-IN-LENDING SIMPLIFICATION
AND REFORM ACT—A MUCH NEEDED
REVISION WHOSE TIME HAS FINALLY
COME—PART II William E. Boyd 549

The author examines the Truth-in-Lending Simplification and Reform Act in detail, concluding that it gives some much needed reform but also leaves some matters unresolved.

- CURIA REGIS: SOME COMMENTS ON THE DIVINE
RIGHT OF KINGS AND COURTS "TO SAY
WHAT THE LAW IS" Philip B. Kurland 581

The author, in the Isaac Marks Memorial Lecture, examines the notions of constitutional construction and deconstruction as applied by the United States Supreme Court.

- PLENARY GUARDIANSHIP: AN ANALYSIS, A
CRITIQUE AND A PROPOSAL FOR REFORM Lawrence A. Frolik 599

Plenary Guardianship and the tests for identifying mental incompetency are examined. The author advances a different, more limited role of guardianship to be applied as the situation dictates.

Essays

- THE COURTROOM MYSTIQUE AND LEGAL
EDUCATION..... Michael H. Davis 661

The author examines our means of legal education and concludes that the emphasis placed on methods justified by pressure-filled courtroom situations is misplaced.

- REDUCING PENSION COSTS NOW: THREE
SUGGESTIONS..... Robert J. Lynn 689

The endangered pension system is examined and changes are suggested. The author discusses a combination of raising established retirement age, de-emphasizing early retirement, coordinating benefits, and indexing to reduce soaring pension costs.

WHAT IN THE CONSTITUTION CANNOT BE AMENDED? Douglas Linder 717

The author examines the amendability of the Constitution and discusses the only unamendable provision in the Constitution, that of the guarantee to each state of equal suffrage in the Senate.

A SECT APART: A HISTORY OF THE LEGAL
TROUBLES OF THE SHAKERS..... Ralph Michael Stein 735

The author discusses the legal problems and responses of the Shakers in nineteenth century America.

PHILOSOPHIZATION AGAINST TAXATION:
WHY NOZICK'S CHALLENGE FAILS Elliott M. Abramson 753

The author challenges the "libertarian" philosophy against governmental taxation of personal wealth as found in Robert Nozick's Anarchy, State and Utopia.

THREE FALLACIES OF INTERPRETATION: A COMMENT ON PRECEDENT AND JUDICIAL
DECISION Kenneth S. Abraham 771

The author scrutinizes the "hard" and the "easy" case, and the application of precedent and judicial decision, as read by the individual judge, to their determination.

Notes

JOINT CUSTODY AS A FUNDAMENTAL
RIGHT Ellen Canacakos 785

The author introduces and defends the concept of joint custody as a constitutionally mandated presumption which follows as a corollary to the fundamental right of parental autonomy.

CONFUSION REGARDING EXCLUSION: THE EVOLUTION OF THE FOURTH AMENDMENT..... Tim Coker 801

The author examines the history and evolution of fourth amendment and the exclusionary rule.

LIQUOR REGULATION IN INDIAN COUNTRY: THE
MODERN PICTURE IN AN ANTIQUE FRAME Jon E. Doak 825

The history and development of federal, state, and tribal laws pertinent to the sale and disposition of alcoholic beverages within Indian Country is analyzed. The author then offers a view of the present and potential effects of the current scheme of regulation of liquor in Indian country.

ECONOMIC RETALIATION: A NEW POINT
OF VIEW Elaine Hardin 861

The author discusses the various methods used by courts to deal with economic retaliation. A different theory for analyzing cases of economic retaliation is also proposed, with the hope that it will bring about greater consistency in judicial decision dealing with this area.

THE SALT RIVER PROJECT AGRICULTURAL IMPROVEMENT AND POWER DISTRICT: A

REVIEW OF STATUTORY FORMULAE Michael J. Pearce 883

The nature of special water districts in Arizona and their performance in light of their stated purposes for creation are analyzed. The author purposes modifications of the statutory format of these districts to better serve the needs of the current population.
