

EDITORS' NOTE

Welcome to the eighth edition of the Arizona Working Papers in Second Language Acquisition and Teaching. This project is made possible by the financial assistance of the Graduate College of the University of Arizona. We are especially grateful to our faculty advisor, Dr. Jun Liu, for his support. In addition, we would like to recognize the SLAT students, alumni and faculty who participated in the process of preparing this volume.

We would like to dedicate this edition of the Papers to the students of the SLAT program, with special thanks to all of our colleagues who submitted papers to this publication. We would like to take this opportunity to remind our readers that the papers included in this publication are classified as "working papers," and as such, any reference to them should make mention of their preliminary nature. In addition, any reproduction of the contents of the papers contained in this journal should only be made with adequate citation and with the consent of the author(s).
