Research in progress

For two years, the English language edition of this journal German medical monthly has been regularly and as quickly as possible publishing brief information on originals in the clinical field (diagnostics, methods of treatments or therapy) or on basic fundamental research. Nearly one hundred such contributions have appeared up to now which are printed in parallel columns, in the German language and the English translation. Those authors who intend to submit such brief information are requested to write for special form sheets and rules, to: Georg Thieme Verlag, D-7 Stuttgart, Herdweg 63, P.O.Box 732.
