

Footnotes: A Journal of History

Journal of the History Students at the University of Arizona

Volume 7

2025

Table of Contents

Letter from the Editor on this Special Issue Angela Corsa	1
Convictions, Communism, and the Cold War: The Sanctuary Movement in the 1980s Felix Brigham	3
Human Rights and Democratization: United States Foreign Policy Towards Nicaragua in 1978-1983 Nicholas Garcia	16
“Cherry Bomb”: The Role of Female Rage in Amplifying Feminism and Reproductive Rights Melissa Lenore Hamann	26
Roses Across Borders: Tracing the Textual History and Cultural Exchange of Roses Between Ming Dynasty China And 18th Century Europe Alexis Hsu	44
Fighting Businessmen: The Social and Monetary Economy of Mercenaries in Northern Italy (1368-1559) Alexander Hukill	65
Civil War Commanders’ Correspondence: Debunking the Lost Cause Narrative Through Voices from the Battlefield Jared Jewell	81
Complicity and Authorization: The Role of the US Government in the Assassination Attempts of Fidel Castro Jazlyn Madrid-Sanchez	93
The China Study: Three Decades of Transnational Research Christina Grace Marikos	104
The Fight Against Clerical Colonialism: Arab Anglicans in Jerusalem, 1947-1949 Theodora Moyse-Peck	119

Table of Contents

A Study on the Enclave Economy of Chinese Immigrants in Tucson during 1880s-1940s Yuechen Pei	131
The Maccabean Revolt: An Assessment of the Relationship Between Religion and History Caroline Simning	139
When the River Runs Green: The Intersection Between Tribal Sovereignty, Economy, & Environmental Stewardship Alyssa Wood	155